Main address* (Do Not use a PO Box) section updated to state that the system automatically considers the main address to be a licensed or registered location and goes on to state that regardless of this requirement a state may not require the main address to be licensed or registered depending upon the activity being conducted. See redline below.

NMLS presumes that the license authority conferred with a Company Form (MU1) is a general license authority for a company. ~~In those states that require each location conducting licensed activity to be individually licensed or registered, the main address is automatically considered~~ by the system as a licensed or registered location. Notwithstanding the system requirement, depending upon the activity being conducted at the main address, a state may not require the main address to be licensed or registered.
